

Full Stack Developer - Frontend (m/w/d)

Full-/Part-Time | Berlin/Remote

What is green and makes life easier?

We solve the often tedious step of making a doctor's appointment with a very simple and flexible online appointment system. In just 30 seconds, patients can securely book their doctor's appointment using Dr. Flex.

On the other hand, we help doctors and practices better manage the heavy load of appointment volume every day. Our automated scheduling and management software integrations take significant load off of the doctors email inboxes and phone lines.

Our vision: Develop the online appointment system of the future in order to significantly simplify access to medical care for patients.

Our Mission: We enable doctors' offices to quickly access online appointment scheduling by capturing free appointment slots in the practice in real time through our numerous APIs to the respective practice software.

As a Full Stack Developer - Frontend (m/w/d) at Dr. Flex you will make a significant contribution to making the lives of doctors and patients easier.
